Keeping Up - -

With Uplanders

By V. V. P.

AIRPORT BONDS

Approval by Ontario voters on Tuesday of airport bonds opens the way for maximum development of the huge air facilities east of here. The vote was emphatic — six to on majority.

While the facilities are not in Upland, all of the foothill communities will receive indirect benefit of the industrial development at the airport.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT

The approval by the Ontario Association of Commerce and Industry of the UCLA report on Chaffey's master plan will be received with mixed feelings throughout the vast school district.

For example, Etiwanda citizens who have a major assessed valuation at their command, are not going to readily follow the lead of the Ontario citizens who have twice defeated previous Chaffey bond issues.

People in other areas will also remember the long delay in our school building program due to apparent unfounded opposition in the past.

NEW CHURCHES

Almost every long-established church in Upland is in the midst of a building program. The Nazarene church lead the way at the outset of the expansion movement with its new W. Ninth St. plant. The Baptist church is now occupying its new building on W. 11th St., as well as the present facilities on Sultana Ave. and Eighth St.

The Presbyterian church will be building in the future on its Euclid Ave. site, south of Foothill Blvd. St. Mark's Episcopal church has been acquiring property and steadily expanding to accommodate the increasing members. The Brethren in Christ church has cleared the site of its new facilities on Arrow Hwy. and San Antonio Ave. The Methodist church recently purchased property south of its sanctuary and a new educational building is planned there.

CUCAMONGA MAIL

This is what The Cucamonga Times said last week about the forthcoming charge in the mail service:

"Marking the greatest single improvement in our mail service here since Abraham Lincoln appointed our first postmaster, city mail delivery service will be inaugurated Monday by the Cucamonga post office."

We cannot accept that statement but nevertheless that is what Scoop Foster said. There have been many other good improvments.

In any event, the start of city mail delivery service in Cucamonga is highly significant as well as historic. Two city carriers are now on the job where formerly only one R.F.D. carrier served the community.

Cucamonga is destined to grow faster than any other community in the county during the next five years.

MORE INDUSTRY?

Where is Upland going to place more industries?

With Mayor E. Tweed Stone and others from this area on an eastern junket to get more industries, it is timely to observe that only about 60 acres within the city limits is zoned for industry.

These 60 acres are along the Santa Fe right-of-way and on Campus Ave. near 14th St. It is very possible that owners of "selected light industry" might not favor these sites as compared with more favorable locations in other cities.

We know the city planning commission members are considering other possible areas for industrial locations. It is generally agreed that Upland does not seek heavy industries but plenty of space should be available for all good, light industrial developments.

Manleys Returning To Upland Soon To End Long Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Manley will return to Upland Sept. 26 to conclude an extensive round-the-world tour which began in February.

At the time of writing to The Upland News, Mr. Manley, former Upland city manager, was in Oslo, Norway and the post card carried a picture of the Oslo city hall.

"This is a wonderful city hall," he said, "Perhaps I should bring it back for Upland, as I understand our city hall is getting smaller and smaller as the city grows larger."

Master Plan To Be Developed For City

Meeting Oct. 16 To Feature Talk Of Local Needs

A master plan for Upland municipal development is being formulated.

Riverside city is in the process of realizing its master plan and representatives of that municipality will be here Oct. 16 to confer with Upland officials.

Three major phases of local development are receiving special attention:

1. Expansion of the city hall to provide adequate facilities for serving an enlarged community.
2. Water supply, its source, storage and distribution.
3. Park development, acquisition of sites, improvements and financing.

Along with all members of the city council, City Manager Elwin Alder is aware of the future needs.

"Rather than to wait until we are overwhelmed with a population too large for our facilities, we believe that now is the time to make plans and to take the preliminary steps," a council spokesman declared.

"Most people are well aware of the changing times and the steady influx of residents. Purpose of the long-range planning is to anticipate our needs and to provide for our needs before we become overwhelmed with population growth problems."

Mr. Alder said that Riverside officials several years ago adopted a master plan after many community leaders had studied the needs.

"Committees were appointed to give special study to specific problems and to make recommendations," the Uplander explained. "It is possible that a similar plan might be followed here. At least, we want to learn from the Riverside experience and that is why the October meeting is planned."

In the city council meeting Thursday night, the councilmen informally discussed the need for a long range development program and asked Mr. Alder to arrange for the conference with Riverside officials. This meeting will be in the city hall here.

While the local city hall is at present adequate, space is very limited and facilities will not be large enough to provide as a head quarters for public services 10 years from now.

What is to be done about the municipal building? is one question to be answered in the long range planning.

Likewise, with the city's water system. While the number of wells and reservoirs and basic system of distribution is sufficient for the immediate future, the need for additional facilities is known to those in charge of this department. Special attention is scheduled to be given to this phase of future planing.

The councilmen are concerned about the park program — obtaining of sites and development of the sites to serve the new thousands of people scheduled to come here.

Mrs. Chester Warda, 9673 San Bernardino Rd., Cucamonga was the first person in Cucamonga ever to receive city mail service. She is shown here getting a letter delivered by the new city carrier, Eugene Acossano. On Monday, two city carriers started on their routes, an indication of the steady increase in Cucamonga population. (Photo by Don Bigley)

P-T A members who assisted at the morning session were Mmes. Vaughan Dunlap, Robert Cameron, O. H. Turner, Philip Born and Jack Brewer. Assisting with Mrs. Dunlap, who is the president, in the morning were Mmes. Jack Newsome, John Mariner, Bailey Wishard, Gerald O'Steen and Rayburn Anderson.

Chamber Dues To Be $25 For Year

Upland chamber of commerce dues will be $25 for the current year.

This figure was reaffirmed at the meeting of the chamber directors Tuesday night. Plans for an intensive membership drive and for the annual meeting were also made.

Leslie Boyd, president, presided at his first regular meeting.

10-Acre Pollock Grove Is Sold

The 10-acre citrus grove and residence owned by Lawrence Pollock on the east side of Euclid Ave. north of 20th St. has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Don Slater of Charter Oaks. The Uplanders, who have owned the property 10 years, have purchased a residence in Claremont.

Mr. Pollock is in the florist business in Pomona and they will move to their new home late this fall. The new owners may not occupy their property for several months.

Children of the Uplanders were active in the community and on campus while attending school. Their son, Robert Pollock, now resides with his wife, the former Eleanor Cook, at 1755½-A W. Foothill Blvd. Their daughter, the former Judy Pollock, is Mrs. Allen Ambler and resides in Coronado. She and her baby were visiting her parents recently.

Foothill Sites For JaCee May Be Sought Soon

Location of the proposed Chaffey junior college site of about 200 acres is likely between Cucamonga and Etiwanda, north of Foothill Blvd.— if a likely bond issue is eventually approved by the voters.

Owners of property or brokers with likely sites are reported to be interested in the forthcoming developments. The UCLA survey team recommended a new J. C. site in the foothill area.

Mr. and Mrs. Welles T. Ross, 8396 Red Hill Dr., Cucamonga, have as their guest Mrs. Ray Deckman, Baltimore, Md. Mrs. Deckman, the former Miss Ardis Richardson, is the daughter of the late Earl H. Richardson, inventor of the Hot Point electric iron. She was born in Upland.

Protests Kill Annexation Of College Heights

Enough protests are on file from property owners to result in cancellation of the proceedings for annexation of College Heights to Upland, it was reported yesterday afternoon from the office of City Clerk Hazel Cassell.

Protests were filed on property with an assessed valuation of $17,820. Total land assessment in the proposed annexation area was $32,480. Since the protest exceeded more than the 50 percent figure, the proceedings are scheduled to be ended, according to City Attorney Henry Busch.

The protests were formally filed at the Upland city council meeting Thursday night. Mrs. Cassell completed analyzing the assessment figures yesterday and reported the result to Mr. Busch.

Uplanders In East To Get Industries

Upland's advantages as the future home for selected industries will be presented to government officials, eastern financiers and businessmen by Mayor E. weed Stone, Ralph H. Miller, former Upland chamber of commerce president, George Brannan, former Upland Kiwanis club president, and others.

These three were among the 70 Southern California industralists and civic leaders who are in Washington, D. C. today. They left by airplane last night.

"We hope to point out what we have in residential and educational advantages for employes and what we have in the way of selected sites for light industry," Mayor Stone said. About 60 acres of land within Upland is at present zoned for industry.

"Our special attention will be centered on the electronics industry and other similiar fields that do not require large areas but want locations set apart from heavy industry."

Mr. Miller, who is president of the Upland Savings & Loan Assn. and head of his realty company, expressed the belief "it is very likely contacts we will make will eventually lead to industries locating in the Upland area. While it is true, the industrial area in Upland is limited, I am confident the impact Southern Californians will make will eventually pay good dividends."

Mr. Brannan and Mr. Miller are associates in the real estate business. Mr. Stone is the official representative of Upland, his trip being financed by the city.

The travelers and others united in the new Los Angeles chamber of commerce building for dinner prior to boarding a chartered plane for Washington.

The group will be divided into teams to meet Secretaries Weeks and Seaton and other officials concerned with government industry relations.

Chaffey Bond Vote Likely To Delay New H. S. District

$8,215,590 Vote Favored By "Opposition"

If the public indicates its support of a new effort to get money approved for realization of a proposed Chaffey expansion plan. such an effort may be started immediately, educational leaders indicated yesterday.

Directors of the Association of Commerce and Industry, Ontario, are on record today favoring step No. 1 for the high school and junior college as recommended in the educational report by UCLA professors. This report was filed with the Chaffey board last week. It is reported more fully on page seven, section two of today's Upland News.

This step means an outlay of $3,332,800 for high school expansion and $4,883 100 for a new junior college site and construction for 1800 students. This is a total of $8,215,590.

Superintendent Dan B. Milliken and members of the Chaffey board expressed approval of the ACI endorsement. "If the voters seem to favor this kind of a program, I believe the Chaffey board will try to act at the earliest possible date."

Phase No. 1 for the high school includes purchase of new sites in Monte Vista, Cucamonga-Alta Loma, southeast Ontario and Etiwanda, $430,000; complete Upland high school for 1800 students, $1,222,800 and build Monte Vista high school, $1,680,000.

For the junior college, step No. 1 proposes to purchase a 200 acre site in the Etiwanda district for $600,000 and construction of buildings for $4,283,100.

It is proposed the high school district buy the junior college share of the Euclid campus, although no provisions are indicated for funds to handle this situation.

This action of the Ontario group followed a meeting last Friday between its educational committee, headed by Carleton Appleby, and Mr. Millikn and other Chaffey board members. Mr. Appleby's committee recommended to the ACI board approval of the UCLA report. In recent bond issues, Mr. Appleby was among the group who expressed opposition to Mr. Milliken and the Chaffey board and questioned their ability to handle financial management of the expanding educational program.

EDITORIAL DISCUSSION

Freeway Exit Ramps At Mountain Sought By Ontario City

Early completion of the exit ramps at the San Bernardino freeway and Mountain Ave. is urged by the Ontario city council in a letter to the Upland city council.

Entrance ramps were placed when the freeway was constructed with the exits to placed later. Due to increased activity on Mountain, early completion of the exits was urged.

Six Seek New Juvenile Post In Upland

This city's juvenile officer will be chosen from among six candidates for the position.

The candidates, all present members of the Upland police department, are Joseph Blouin, Verne Colvin, Tom Davis, Richard Carr, Bill Smith and Felix Quesada.

A written examination was conducted Friday and two oral examinations will be held prior to selection of the new officer. From the remaining group, a new sergeant will be chosen for the department. The one written examination will suffice for both positions.

City Manager Elwin Alder said that when the juvenile officer is selected, he will be given special training prior to taking on the responsibility of supervising all cases involving youths.

Harlan Jackson recently resigned from the department as sergeant, and this vacancy will be filled from among the candidates.

Cecil Chambers To Retire As City Fireman

Cecil Chambers, a resident of Upland many years, and an employe of the Upland fire department, will come to the end of his service in the city hall Sept. 30. He will be the fifth city employe to retire in accordance with the city's retirement program. His retirement is in accordance with the city's age limitation.

In the garage business before joining the Upland fire department, Mr. Chambers began his city hall service in 1943. Prior to that for 20 years he had been a member of the volunteer fire department.

At present, Mr. and Mrs. Chambers, who reside at 409 N. Third Ave., are vacationing at their favorite fishing spot near Eureka.

Chino Rotary Joins Upland

Upland Rotary and Chino Rotary clubs held a joint meeting Wednesday in the Upland Woman's club when the speaker was A. Rodney Johnson, public relations officer of General Motors. His subject was a "Preview of Progress".

Support In New Foothill Area Unlikely Now

That no favorable action would be taken in formation of a new Foothill high school district appeared likely early last night when members of a county school boundary committee convened for a final meeting on the proposal.

Indications point to an early election in providing Chaffey board of education with sufficient funds to relieve the critical high school classroom shortage.

Ready for presentation was a resolution from Mrs. Raymond O. Kay, Upland, asking the county committee to recommend formation of the new district. W. W. Woodward, chairman of the local committee seeking formation of the district, was scheduled to head a list of speakers in behalf of forming the new district.

Since it is likely, the proposed Chaffey bond election will be held at an early date, further steps in formation of the districts are likely to await outcome of the bond vote.

Baxter Urges City Insist On Depressed Crossing At Euclid

Franklin Baxter, 461 N. Euclid Ave., in a letter to the Upland city council, urged the city officials to insist that a depressed freeway rather than an elevated freeway be allowed at Euclid Ave. north of 19th St.

He indicated the city's long-term investment in Euclid should be of enough importance to be maintained. California highway commission is planning an upper freeway and has suggested a "bridge crossing" at Euclid.

Census Start Expected Soon

Upland city officials have completed all preliminary arrangements and City Manager Elwin Alder expects to get word from the Los Angeles office of the bureau concerning final arrangements.

In official state records, the city's population is listed at slightly more than 11,000. A present population of 14,000 is estimated and when this approximate total is registered by the U.S. census bureau, Upland will get increased allotments from the state from the gasoline tax and other sources.

Kiwanis Given Football Talk By Coach Bell

Gerald Bell, football coach at Upland High school, was the speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting in Sycamore Inn, Tuesday. He talked on modern coaching and said the team would be using the Split T offensive this year. He showed the football uniforms the team will use explaining they will coast $100 each.

Reporting on the appeal of the sport for boys he said 46 are in training for the first string team. There are 65 on the B team and 40 on the C team. Practice began on Labor Day.

While the school is too new for league play the first three games scheduled this year are with Chino, Arroyo and Corona.

Alexander McLeish, principal, as program chairman, introduced Mr. Bell.

Guests were Cal Jordon, General Electric Co. and Dr. Robt. R. Robinson.

Plans were made to attend the interclub meeting later in the week in Pomona.

Her necklace was of tiny pearls and she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her godmother and a large bouquet of white roses tied with satin streamers.

Miss Jeanne Struys, Ontario, the maid of honor, wore a rose colored ballerina length crystallette frock. The large cape collar formed a bow in the back. A tiny pillbox hat and veil and her shoes matched the color of her frock and she carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations and rosebuds.

Beverly Boone, flower girl wore pale blue nylon over taffeta frock edged with white. She carried a basket of pale pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Baldwin wore a street length dress of beige lace over silk with pale blue accessories and a white rose corsage. Mrs. Town wore pale blue lace over taffeta dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents where a three tier cake trimmed with pale pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley was topped with white sugar bells.

Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Lester Brewer, Oxnard; Mrs. Rae Payne, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Mary Skillman, Hollywood; Mrs. Richard Deward, San Luis Obispo; Miss Judy Smith and Miss Mary Anne Boone.

For a hnneymoon, spent at La Jolla, the bride chose a coral nubby weave sheath dress with white accessories. The young couple are now residing at 193 El Camino way, Claremont.

Upland Hostess Is Newcomer Who Knows All The Answers

Representing the city of Upland, the chamber of commerce and business firms as Upland's official hostess is Rose Stawicki, who replaces Mrs. Al Arenal, who retired from the post.

Herself a newcomer from Gary, Ind. Mrs. Stawicki says she knows exactly what those coming into Upland are most interested in finding out. She is the wife of Mitchell Stawicki who is employed in the Kaiser Steel Co. laboratory. She has learned by experience the needs of newcomers. She knows the needs of children,too, for the Stawicki's have three daughters, Linda, Kathleen and Jaqueline.

Since she has been making calls she has been busy briefing new families on Upland's facilities, attractions, amusements and churches. All these things are of prime interest to them, she says and they also wanto to know about clubs, and just now voting is on their minds.

"People ask me about the mayor," she said. They all want to know who he is and for emergencies they want to know what hospital facilities are available.

Here but a short time before the All States picnic, she immediately joined the Indiana group and was an active worker for the event.

She has found people like living here because of its accessibility to many southland places, its climate and freedom from smog.

Those who wish to contact her about newcomers should phone 3-3801.

Wild Life Gets Break In Mt. Baldy

The B. V. Hughes home in Barrett's canyon, Mt. Baldy, is a soft touch for wild life regardless of species.

Mrs. Hughes maintains a feeding station along the west patio of her home for birds and at night, foraging racoons make regular visits for handouts.

Mr. Hughes, art instructor at Chino Institution for Men, buys day-old cakes and doughnuts for the nocturnal visitors. The number of racoons reporting for provisions vary with the seasons of the year.

"At times seven or eight make an appearance at one time, Mrs. Hughes explained. "They come up on the patio and if we have failed to leave food in the feeding boxes they scratch on the door. They will come in the house if we coax them a bit."

"We always have the regulars, of course, among the older racoons. But they fight among themselves and sometimes they arrive after a fight bloody and sore. One pair of older 'coons always make an appearance," she pointed out.

Mrs. Hughes maintains feeding bottles of sweetened water along the eves above the patio. The humming birds and bees utilize this source of supply. "It takes a gallon of sugared water a day to meet the demand," Mrs. Hughes said.

Deer come into the yard daily in search of provender and often become nuisances.

"Deer are crazy about watermelon. Given a taste of watermelon you will have them on your hands for weeks," Mr. Hughes pointed out.

A very small honor can puff up a very small individual.

Racoons Get Help From Mt. Baldy Resident

Mrs. B. V. Hughes holds a tidbit for two foraging racoons that make regular nightly visits to the Hughes home in Barrett Canyon, Mt. Baldy. The racoons are fed day-old cake and doughnuts purchased especially for them by Mr. Hughes. As many as seven or eight report for a handout at times with the regulars tame enough to enter the house.

Thrashers Laud Out State Traffic

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thrasher with Bonney and Teddy, 906 N. Euclid Ave., have returned from an 8500 mile vacation trip which covered practically all of the Eastern states, into Canada and south to Florida. They were away 3½ weeks.

"I was impressed by traffic control in other states," Mrs. Thrasher said. "I'm convinced we don't have enough markers in California. We found curves much better marked. We never saw any accidents until we returned to California when we saw two bad ones between Indio and Upland, on the freeway.

"It was a wonderful trip and we got real pleasure out of seeing historical places."

On the way east they stopped in the Grand Canyon, Mesa Verde National park, the home of the cliff dwellers and visited relatives in Iowa and Missouri. They saw Niagara Falls, Boston and New York city where they attended Riverside church with a cousin, Dr. Helen Walker, a professor at Columbia university. From there they visited Philadelphia, Washington D.C. and the deep south states. The children played in the water at Virginia beach, Fla. The whole family drove on the white sands of Daytona beach and they went on to St. Petersburg to see the Gulf of Mexico. Returning they saw the Alamo in San Antonio where they also visited relatives.

Judge, Constable Pay May Be Changed, If Voters Approve

Likely to affect the pay of justices and constables in this district is a proposal that will be on the Nov. 6 ballot.

The San Bernardino county board of supervisors has placed on the ballot, proposition "A". The measure was requested by the Judges and Constables Association of San Bernardino county.

This amendment, when approved by the voters of the county, would permit changes in the monthly salary of judges and constables during their terms of office. The terms are now six years, and they feel that no salary should remain frozen for such a length of time without the possibility of adjustment during the terms.

Matter, Topic Of Scientists

"Matter" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in the Ontario Christian Science church, Sunday. The sermon will challenge the basis of spirituality, the reality of matter, even as physical science today questions matters of reality on the basis of demonstrated physical facts.

Illustrated will be Jesus' overcoming of matter in many instances as exampled by his walking on the lake of Galilee in the account by John, who was among the witnesses of the event.

20 Acres Citrus For Home Sites, Aim In Hearing

Twenty acres of citrus on Mountain Ave. immediately north of Arrow Hwy. is scheduled to be developed for residential purposes if a zone change is eventually approved in the city hall.

At least, an application is on file today for a public hearing at the Sept. 27 meeting of the Upland city planning commission. The area involved is the 10 acres on each side of Mountain, north of Arrow, according to the application signed by David Seares, Charles Latimer and R. Robert Sherwood. At present, the property is in the agricultural zone. The hearing seeks to change it to permit residential construction.

Applications from two churches for special zoning will be considered at the Sept. 27 meeting.

The Foursquare Gospel church is seeking to place its facilities on five acres on the north side of W. Eighth St. immediately west of the Ontario-city-owned reservoir site at Fern Ave.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints is seeking to establish a building on the northwest corner of San Antonio Ave. and 11th St.

Ontario Passes Airport Bonds

Voters in Ontario gave an overwhelming affirmative vote to the $2,000,000 bond issue for Ontario International airport, Tuesday. The vote was actually better than six to one. Final tabulation of the city's 18 consolidated precincts was 2,973 yes and 474 no. Only 23 percent of the city's registered voters turned out.

The expansion program, made possible by the successful bond election, includes new runways and taxiways costing $1,140,000, a terminal building, extension of sewer lines, improvement of parking facilities, new aprons and purchase of additional land for protection of approaches. Passage of the bond election will make close to $1,500,000 available in Federal funds to be added to that provided in the election.

The bond retirement plan will be taken care of largely from revenue derived from building and site rentals at the airport. Leroy Gregg, aviation director for the city has revealed that during 1955-56 the airport showed an operation margin of more than $100,000.

Edison Seeks Rate Increase

Application for a general rate increase has been filed with the California Public Utilities Commission by Southern California Edison Co.

This is the second time since 1921 that the company has sought a rate increase. Additionally, the company emphasized, the rate of return which the PUC authorized following the company's application in 1952 — the first in 31 years — has never been realized.

If granted, the effect of the rate increase on residential customers would be to add approximately 15 cents a month to the bill for average household use, Edison spokesmen pointed out.

Undecided as to which of the two is tops in swine yodeling, Thummer merely "hams" it up with a big grin and a wave and says, "Since I'm predjudiced, I'll just have to leave it up to the judges to decide when the contest gets underway next Tuesday, Sept. 18.

Pupil Increase In Elementary Up 17 Percent

Upland's elementary school population is up 17 percent over that of last year, according to figures released by Harold Cook, superintendent.

Not as large an increase as was anticipated took place in the surrounding area.

In Upland there were 1865 students at school on the first day. Last year there were 1596. According to Mr. Cook little more than half the increase was due to the west side. At Sierra Vista there will be double sessions in the third grade with afternoon classes starting at 12:20 p.m.

A breakdown of enrollment figures shows there were 285 at Baldy View as against 273 last year. At Sierra Vista this year there are 492 as against 452 last year. At Upland Elementary 576 students enrolled this year and there were 527 last year. At the Upland Junior High school there was an increase of nearly 100. This year 412 students enrolled as against 324 last year.

Marion R. Adkison, principal, Cucamonga Central school, stated 426 students enrolled Tuesday. This was little change over last year's enrollment he said.

At Alta Loma 287 students enrolled and this was an increase of 17 over last year.

At Cucamonga District school there was a drop in enrollment of about 40 students, less than expected, but Mrs. Theresa Stafford, superintendent, reported they were expected to enroll later Tuesday there were 396 students enrolling as against 436 on the opening day a year ago.

LEGION RAISES $480

The American Legion auction sale, Saturday, in the grounds, resulted in $480 being raised. This sum will go toward the fund for the new Legion building currently being planned for the Arrow Hwy. site.

Disaster Group Calls Meeting

California Disaster Auxiliary is holding a meeting in the Cucamonga Justice Court, Tuesday, 8 p.m., called by Obie R. White, Civil Defense director and Art Hinman, training officer.

"We have been recently urged to step up training of volunteers and to enlist more patriotic capable citizens for this work", Mr. Hinman said. "There is a minimum of regimentation in the training. Citizens of two types are sought. Those who do not wish to carry sidearms will be trained for traffic and rescue work. Those who are willing to carry their own sidearms will be trained for duty at reservoirs, and to prevent looting. There is a minimum of compulsion in the training and there are no dues. The only expense to the recruit is the purchase of his own safety helmet. It is a completely non-political organization. Monthly training meetings are scheduled.

"We feel it is most urgent to have reliable citizens trained for traffic and other needed duties in case of disasters and anyone can realize that untrained men are completely unfitted for this work. We aim to have a fine group on the job, when and if they are needed".

He pointed out that the Women's auxiliary is doing splendid work and meets the first Tuesday each month in Monte Vista school. Members are recruited from the West End.

Primary puprose of Tuesday's meeting is to obtain the co-operation of residents of Upland, Cucamonga and Alta Loma, he said. Inquiries as to the duties will be answered by Mr. Hinman whose phone number is 62-2459.

Truth may be hard to ascertain but the search warrants the attention of all individuals.

Players Ready For Melodrama

"Gold in Them Thar Hills!", a burlesque of an 1890 heroic melodrama, will be presented by the Valley Community Theater in a four-day run starting Sept. 19 in the Claremont Woman's Club, Claremont.

"While a burlesque in the sense that the melodrama contains all the absurdities of plot, situation and language of the 19th century 'thrillers,' the play will be performed with heroic seriousness, as it might have been played by a road repertoire company in about 1890," Mrs. Margaret Brydon, the director, said.

Leading roles are taken by Harold Goodell as the villian, James Rose as the hero, and Gloria Bussell as the heroine.

Others in the cast include Maxwell Gates, Mona Leake, Jimmie Davis, Paul Longfellow, Hester Powell, Gretchen Haapanen, Casper Gee, Earl Schoneman, Winifred Smith, Sophia Gee, Kay Girvan, and Stan Larson.

The production will include olio numbers in between acts and refreshments will be available.

Information concerning tickets may be obtained by telephoning LYcoming 5-3581.

Cucamonga Nearly Ready For Colorado River Water

Installations Being Rushed To Aid Users

Colorado river water will be available in Cucamonga some time this month.

The Cucamonga water district will obtain its first supply at a connection on Archibald Ave. and Acacia St. within a very short time, according to Norman Hixson, manager of the Cucamonga district. Final installations of equipment at various points is under way and within a short time Mr. Hixon said the new supply of water would be available for residents in the area.

"Some of the mutual companies throughout our area are in desperate need of water and we hope to get some to them just as soon as possible."

No ceremony will mark the first flow of water into the multi-million dollar reservoir and distribution system. Later, with all equipment in place a dedicatory ceremony may be planned.

Site of the actual connection between the Chino Basin Municipal Water district and the Cucamonga water district is at Archibald and Acacia St. The Cucamonga group has a five acre site there for a huge water reservoir.

The Cucamonga district serves a 27-square mile area.

Cucamonga Fiesta Success

Fiesta Days, sponsored by the Cucamonga Lions club finished Saturday night with a most successful result, according to Ray Derfer Lions' club president.

The affair, held north of Foothill Blvd. on Archibald Ave., had a carnival section on the east side and concession booth sponsored by the Cucamonga Firemen's club, the American Legion post and the Lions'.

A program included dances by the Dorothy Williams Dancé studio and the Mandella brothers with their accordions.

Appearing in person were Cucamonga's now famous set of twins, Anthony and Jimmy Blatnick, 10, sons of Postmaster and Mrs. Anthony Blatnick and Dinah Lynn and Donny Ruth Bigley, 4, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bigley. The Blatnick and Bigley twins were winners in the recent Huntington Beach Twinorama.

Lions' club committeemen in charge of the event were Louis Kinney, Robt, Hauser and Harold Woodrow.

Proceeds, not yet tabulated, will be used to further two major Lions' club projects, development of community betterment and aid to the blind.

Enrollment Less At Cucamonga;

Registration at Cucamonga District school Tuesday, the day school started, was 40 students below the expected number. Mrs. Therese Stafford superintendent reported that 396 students turned up. Last year on opening day there were 436 students. On the opening day in 1954, 360 students enrolled.

Mrs. Stafford explained that she believes the discrepancy is due to a number of children not reporting in, due to a number of reasons. "They'll be along," she said.

The school is on double shift through the fourth grade and will remain on that basis until the new school is completed.

She announced bids on the new plant have been awarded Hoefer Construction Co. of Fontana, the lowest of seven bidders. Second lowest bidder was Barney Wickerson. The bid accepted was the base bid plus alternate 1 and alternate 5 for $559,430. Alternate 1 includes administration building, cafetorium, 2 kindergartens, 16 classrooms. Alternate 5 is for fencing.

A second accepted bid is alternate 2 at $553,430 which provides that two of the newer classrooms on the old site be moved to the new site, eliminating two of the rooms in the new plant.

"The state allocation board made this a condition," Mrs. Staffield said. "We will know after a meeting on Sept. 19 which plan they will permit us to follow."

Mike Carrari Sets Out Avocado Grove

Mike Carrari, Alta Loma rancher, has a very fine young grove of avocados, Farm Advisor Ellis Faulhaber has reported. He has planted two varieties, Zutano and Covacado.

Mr. Carrari recently wnet over his planting with the farm advisor. The trees are making excellent growth and have a very good crop on, considering their age.

It is reported there is an increasing interest in avocados in San Bernardino County. A number of new plantings have been made. Choice of avocado varieties is of particular importance in the inland areas. Although most varieties grow well, some are shy bearers in the warm interior sections.

Attorney Named By Cucamonga On Incorporation

Many preparations are being made for the Sept. 24 public hearing on the proposed incorporation of Cucamonga.

Stanford Shaw, attorney, has been retained by the incorporation committee, to present the case for incorporation and to refute the verbal arguments that may be presented by persons who oppose the formation of a new city. Leslie Foster, chairman of the committee, said that many group meetings will be held prior to the hearing before the county supervisors, in preparation of incorporation needs for the community.

At conclusion of the hearing, the supervisors may decide to call an election or may cancel the proceedings.

Supervisor Dan Mikesell has indicated he will not accept any "withdrawal" protests from property owners unless they have valid reasons for not wanting to be in an incorporated area. He is well aware of the recent situation in the College Heights area when residents petitioned to be exempt from Monte Vista in order to join Upland — and then protest against becoming a part of Upland.

Leaders of the Cucamonga incorporation are in close touch with the courthouse and are optimistic in getting satisfactory approval of the petition.

The Chaffey Master Plan — And The New H. S. District

Likely to be a subject for lengthy discussion is the "Master Plan For Chaffey High School and Junior College", which was made public last week. The 150-page volume is the work of a team of UCLA professors, who analyzed the local educational system and visioned its future developement.

While the volume contains much information about population growth, the document really tells us nothing new. In fact, it adds confusion to the situation, instead of clarity in trying to find a real solution to the classroom problems. It leaves loopholes in the so-called "master plan."

Perhaps there may be one major advantage in the report — it provides a platform for use by the former opponents of Chaffey bond issues in turning about in their attitude on future bond proposals. The two most recent Chaffey bond issues were defeated due to the attitude of various Ontario interests.

These "interests" asked the Chaffey board to employ a team of "experts" to study the local situation and to prepare a master plan. Thus, we have the plan from the UCLA professors — at a cost of $4,500. Much of the information about classroom needs had ben previously and adequately outlined by Superintendent Dan Milliken. All persons in close touch with the rapidly expansion, were aware that by 1965 our population would be many, many thousands more than today.

Nevertheless, the document is something the "opponents" wanted — and they may now use it for their turn-about. We hope they do just that and sincerely back Mr. Milliken and the Chaffey board.

The UCLA report, however, will not be received with much enthusiasm in the Upland-Foothill district. These experts, with an apparent background of metropolitan experience, look upon the entire area as ideal for maintenance of one large school district.

Authors of the master plan apparently ignored the many conflicts of interest between Ontario and the foothill areas when they recommended continuation of one large Chaffey district. There is no common community interest that binds all of us together. Rather, there are enough differences to make such a large, diversified district highly unsatisfactory.

Historically, Ontario has been the center of things but in the changing era, each of the other districts is establishing a strong, individual, localized identity. It is well known also that fundamental differences exist between Ontario and the foothill area. Ontario's municipal policy of dense population and a policy of large high schools is in direct contrast to Upland's plan of less dense development and small high schools.

Furthermore, a new high school district for the foothill communities could be maintained at a LOWER rate than if the present Chaffey district is continued.

Look at the past concerning Ontario's attitude toward high school education — and one should be able to judge the future — unless the critics accept the leadership of Mr. Milliken and the Chaffey board.

If the Ontario leaders accept the UCLA report, it may be regarded only as one expedient way of trying to help forestall the movement to form a new high school district.

Another question is overlooked in the UCLA report. What is actually going to happen to the Euclid Ave. campus, now occupied by the high school and the junior college?

The UCLA report recommends purchase of a 280-acre site for the college near Etiwanda and use of the present college facilities for serving 3,500 high school students.

Such a policy is very likely to be questioned from a standpoint of economics and quality of education. To a layman, it seems absurd to convert expensive college laboratories and other specialized equipment into high school classrooms.

Furthermore, the college district owns the facilities on the north half of the Euclid campus — yet there is no mention of any financial provision for the high school district buying these facilities.

Removal of the college campus to a recommended location near Etiwanda may be the educator's idea — but it is likely the hundreds of adults using the campus for night school would not be too eager in authorizing the change, even though such a change might be fair to residents in eastern part of the district.

Above all, a solution to the high school classroom problem is the big objective.

Formation of a new Foothill high school district would give a very early solution. If that is not possible, then a bond issue of about $10,000,000 — more or less — approved by two-thirds of the Chaffey voters would provide a solution.

It is likely a bond election of some kind will be offered by the Chaffey board of education. Anything less than a "solution" is not likely to be acceptable here.

Time Passes

25 Years Ago

Students in the district, including Chaffey High school and Junior college and the elementary schools opened with a registration of 3500, and increase of 100 over the previous year.

Mrs. Sam Lamb was elected president of the American Legion auxiliary, and Mrs. Edith Howarton was the retiring president. Elected to serve with Mrs. Lamb were Mrs. Wm. Larkin, first vice president; Mrs. Ancil Morris, second vice president; Mrs. Chas. V. Benson, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Fossett, treasurer, who was serving her fifth term. Mmes. I. J. Linkey, George Cassell and Frank Freeman were named to the executive board.

An editorial in The News was entitled, "I Am Still Rich." It dealt with the spiritual aspects of Life during the depression and said in part, "A financial crisis can wipe out profits and bring business to a standstill but character is beyond its reach. It can rob us of all we have but it cannot rob us of what we are."

Dr. James Latimer — This Life We Live

SOME PATHFINDERS:

A recent book review thrilled me. It covered the biography of the explorer John Charles Fremont. The book revealed to me the great debt we owe to such men. I have travelled some of the trails Fremont blazed and a friend of mine in Omaha believes he has been over every one of them. In fact, he has gone over and investigated every known trail from the Missouri to the Pacific Ocean. His book on Western Trails is of constant pleasure and information.

Think with me as we consider some of Fremont's contributions. We find his name everywhere; on streets and parks and over cities. This man who never knew who his father was married the daughter of Senator Thomas Hart Benton. He became such an outstanding figure that he was once nominated for the Presidency of the United States. He seems to have had no interest in politics, and was defeated by Buchanan in the autumn of 1856. As a general in the Civil War he lost favour with the President and was relieved of his post. He was also accused of meeting in secret with those who opposed the war with Mexico. He resigned from the army. His one passion seems to have been for exploration. His business ventures ended in disaster. Yet he had a gift for accuracy and for details. His reports on trails are beyond revision.

I seem ever to have been interested in western adventure. Some men were bent on gain and traded trinkets to the Indians for furs; some killed buffalo for meat and sold much of it to the Government; others searched for gold. Fremont seems not to have been interested in any of these things and sought only the best and easiest route for the proposed railway from The Rockies to the Sea. He found it. He seems also to have had the happy faculty of making friends with the Indians as well as with the white traders, and his progress was helped by it all. You will recall also that his leadership was such that he was appointed Governor of Arizona in the year 1878.

Freemont died a poor man; our world is richer for his courage and work. The good he did lives on. His wife wrote his epitah and said,

"From the ashes of his campfires have sprung cities."

Buy the book; it is worth owning. It is listed at $8.50 and that holds me back for the present.

Yesterday Today and Tomorrow

By GERRY McGEER

It's wonderful to discover that California highways and freeways are practically free of litter. Two years ago, as a newcomer, the litter was a shocking sight, often completely destroying the beauty of the countryside. It struck me that this litter would make interesting digging for future generations and mentally I thought of it as a 20th century midden.

But it is all gone, or most of it is, and no longer aggravates ones sensibilities.

My personal feeling is that it would be just as easy to get rid of highway homicide, a much more important objective.

Freeways are murder. Despite the fact that they've been engineered and planned, the smart people who are responsible for them have overlooked a few vital factors.

To my amazement, not long ago, I listened to a helicopter policeman talking of the freeways on TV. He said they were a mess from the air and he casually mentioned that even policemen get lost on them! That is, the traffic officers who are on traffic duty in Los Angeles.

While this comforted one who tried unsuccessfully to make the Santa Ana freeway three times it also made me realize that the freeway is literally a jungle with drivers who are bound helterskelter for places they are not sure of reaching because a hospital is often just as sure a destination.

If police officers aren't sure of how to get where they are going what possible hope is there for the rest of us?

It's been pretty well established that the freeways lack adequate direction markers. People driving at freeway speeds overshoot their mark, cause accidents by going too slow, or get hopelessly lost. This is particularly true of people riding alone, or strangers. Someone suggested to me that it takes two in the front seat to negotiate the freeways.

It's fine for people who travel a given route but there are an awful lot of people, newcomers, tourists, who find themselves on a freeway without even realizing they are there until it's too late.

Those places where traffic merges are guaranteed to make one's hair stand on end and despite all engineering, the frantic hurried drivers in the rear seldom give a thought to those who need to move into the left lane for a turn. Freeways will never be safe until there is a definite slowing of traffic at such points.

Until that happens the plain facts are that the costly new freeways are being paid for by the many for the use of the few. For I really do believe that many more people avoid the freeways than use them. They avoid them because they are taking their lives in their hands when they drive them and they know it.

Another fact is that after a vacation I was struck with the absence of patrolling traffic cars. The speed of cars with trailers and trailer trucks was unchecked so far as this traveller could see. That also goes for the reckless speeder and the more reckless weaver.

If for esthetic reasons Californians can stop litter, why can't they stop highway slaughter?

Over-cautious people are almost as worthless as those who are too careless.

A very small honor can puff up a very small individual.

Omar the Tentmaker, in the 11th century, had a quatrain for it and he had never been inside a schoolhouse.

Throng At Party For Young GOP

A capacity crowd attended the fifth anual "Grand old party" sponsored by the Chaffey District Young Republicans Saturday night in the Garrett recreation hall, Guasti. Mrs. Gerald R. Westphal, general chairman and coordinator, announced that there was a waiting list for tickets, but no accommodations were available due to a complete sellout.

Present as honored guests were State Senator and Mrs. James Cunningham, from San Bernardino. Other guests included Judge and Mrs. Russell Goodwin, Redlands; Ray W. Ferguson, candidate Assembly from 72nd district, and Mrs. Ferguson, Ontario; J. Thomas Wallace III, president, San Bernardino County Young Republicans and Mrs. Wallace; Robert Walline, vice president Young Republicans of California and Mrs. Walline; and Mr. and Mrs. Llewelyn J. Barden.

Others from the Upland-Foothill district who had an important part in success of the event follow: Mrs. Leslie A. Kalil, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Don DeVore, Jack Brewer and Mrs. Tom Carnessi.

Sharps and Flats

By Chuck Barlow

Never were obsequies more gloomy or final for a vacation than those conducted last week by male children along our street.

From the womb to the tomb, life is a multitude of constant changes, varied with personal activity. The human animal resents changes. The change from carefree days to regimented classrooms brings a yowl of protest from the local population of small boys.

"Ol' Sharps" overheard a portion of the wailing and lamentation attendant to the return to the halls of knowledge. Three lads, the oldest about twelve, were gloomily surveying future prospects.

"Heck," a carrot top grumbled, "I'll have to start to junior high and they don't even give us time to learn our way around the place before classes start."

The trio digested this a few moments before a lad wearing glasses answered. "Yeah, but even at that you won't have 'Vinegar Puss' as a teacher. I'll get her agin this year. If she ever smiled she'd crack her glasses."

The junior member of the trio took his cue. "At least you guys aren't starting to a new school All my teachers will be new and I won't know a dozen kids. Just the ones in this block."

"I'm going to a new school — to me, that is," Carrot Top answered quick.

"Wish I was," Specs cut in quick. "Anything would be better than 'Vinegar Puss!"

"How do I know I won't get something a lot worse?" the youngest of the trio queries.

As I watched, the trio stirred itself from the curbside and sauntered down the street still conversing in low pained voices.

Burying a solid and friendly vacation is a solumn and distasteful act for the junior population. They resent the change brought about in their lives. Are they much different than adults? Haven't you heard something about like this before now?

"I'm tuckered but I suppose I'll have to go to that P-T A meeting tonight and you should go with me," mother hangs her apron on a hook and fixes pop with a gimlet eye.

The head male of the family squirms behind his newspaper and grumbles a protest. "That's your department. I never can figure out what that bunch of dames are talking about. If they wouldn't all talk at one time they might get something done."

"That's just an excuse and you know it. No one there talks any more than you do, when you go. Besides these kids are yours as much as mine and it's your equal responsibility."

The newspaper rattles as though in the throes of a mild convulsion but silence reigns. For a brief interval, that is.

Mother continues. "I'll go slip into my dress and then WE will get to that meeting early enough for you to familiarize yourself before it starts."

She sweeps from the room followed by a glare from the top of the newspaper.

This thing has been going on for as long as small boys have been forced to the drudgery of school at the begining of a new rm. P-T A is a comparatively new innovation but this sad season of the year is old stuff to younger male students. P-T A members have the same autumn frustration only from an adult

Pictured are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eugene Bell. She is the former Miss Betty Lou Asper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin S. Asper of Arlington. He is the son of Mrs. Bessie Bell and the late Ralph E. Bell. Married Aug. 4 in Chino Brethren in Christ church, their first home will be in Chico where both are enrolled in Chico State college (Don Bigley Photo by Frances)

Chico will be the home of Fred Eugene Bell and his bride, the former Miss Betty Lou Asper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin S. Asper of Arlington. Mr. Bell is the son of Mrs. Bessie Bell, 565½ E. 24th St. and the late Ralph E. Bell.

The young couple were married in the Chino Brethren in Christ church, Sept. 4, with the Rev. Merle E. Brubaker officiating before 200 guests. Baskets of white gladiolas, 'mums and stocks with candelabra decorated the church. Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a traditional gown of ivory satin with a lace yoke. Her veil was held in place with a bandeau of perl circlets and she carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Her sister, Mrs. John Zimmerman, matron of honor, wore a teal blue faille dress with duster and carried a cascade bouquet of pink gladiolas.

Joy Brubaker, the flower girl, wore a pink frock.

Lee Van Pelt was the best man and the ushers were Richard Minos, Martin Nielsen and Ellis Asper.

Mrs. Asper wore a dress of pink nylon with a black velvet jacket and black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Bell chose a light blue dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Miss Leonore Ewert was the organist and Mrs. Louis Cober sang, "Because," and "At Dawning."

Following the ceremony there was a reception on the church lawn which was lighted with Japanese lanterns and decorated with ivy and roses. Assisting as hostesses were Mmes. Harvey Stump, Claude Bailey, Homer Warner, Willard Stump and Miss Kathleen Groff.

For the honeymoon the bride chose a navy and pink box suit with pink and white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

One large bouquet of pink roses dominated the decorations in the Heilman home and many small nosegays of pink roses were scattered throughout the reception rooms. Tall candelabra flanked the four tier cake which was decorated with pale pink lilies of the valley.

Assisting as hostesses were Mrs. Chester Ewing, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Cletus Carlton and Mrs. E. P. Bowser, daughers of the bridegroom; Mmes. Fern Reisner, Clifton Sanborn, Harold Stickney, David Bice, Curtis Rogers, Ralph Lee, James L. I'm A Savings & Loan Fan

I'm an amateur investor, aren't you?

I mean, I have my regular work to do, and nearly every time I monkey with investments on the side, I lose money.

The best way I've ever found to save money is to put it into a savings account in a savings and loan association like Euclid Savings & Loan.

You can feel safe about your savings at Euclid Savings & Loan because of their assets of nearly $8 millon, and because they re-invest your money mostly in monthly-reducing first mortages widley scattered in this vicinity.

You get a good return on your money at Euclid Savings & Loan (currently 3½% per year,) but, best of all, Euclid Savings & Loan gives you a system of sure saving. You can put your money there and sleep nights. No worry, no bother, no risk.

Madonna Monument, Theme Of Upland Entry in L. A. County Fair

Junior C. of C. Places Exhibit In Big Display

Uplanders attending the Pomona fair, Sept. 14 to 30 will be treated to a familiar site. The Ontario-Upland Junior Chamber of Commerce plans to enter the famous Madonna of the Trail as an exhibit which may be viewed in the Agricultural building.

"The entry is in the historical category," Peter Boghosin, chairman of the committee in charge, said.

"We are planning a dramatic presentation with figures of the mother, baby and boy, dressed as they are in the monument with trees and shrubbery to simulate the Upland scene.

"Mrs. Lilian Hilde supplied us with a lead and we were able to get an excellent picture of the statue from Charles Dunlap. Members of the Jay-cee-ettes are making the clothing. J. J. Atwood Co. has supplied us with the manikins being used and we are having wonderful co-operation from others in Upland including Robert Joines and Gene Dary of the Upland 20-30 club."

Mr. Boghosin said that the statue will be recognizable as the famous Upland landmark at Euclid Ave. and Foothill Blvd. from whichever direction it is seen.

The Upland entry in the fair is under the general sponsorship of the Upland chamber of commerce with the Junior chamber of commerce actually doing the work. Prize money, almost always won by the Upland entry, will be shared by the junior chamber and the senior Upland organization.

This is the picture of the Madonna of the Trails monument that will be featured in the Upland exhibit at the Los Angeles county fair. The monument is on the north side of Foothill Blvd. at Euclid Ave. The entry is being prepared by the Ontario-Upland junior chamber of commerce.

Lasky Plan For Safe Crossings Is In Effect

The "Lasky plan" for guarding the lives of school children on their way to and from school, will be in operation again this year in Upland.

This plan was formulated last year by Maurice Lasky, juvenile protection chairman at Upland elementary school. City officials and police officers have endorsed the idea and are cooperating to keep it working.

Yellow crosswalks designated "Children Cross Here" are strategically located throughout the city. These cross walks are arranged to give all the children attending school in Upland direct safe routes to and from school.

Mrs. Leonard Brown, president of Upland Elementary P-T A, announced that slips were sent out from that school this week requesting that parents cooperate with the school and city officials in maintaining the active acceptance of the safety plan.

Many California communities have since adopted the plan and the State Congress of California Parents and Teachers has heartily endorsed it.

Uplanders Thrilled At Reunion

Thrilled at being with 80 relatives in a family reunion in their honor, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gundry are today at home, 400 N. Laurel Ave. after an eventual trip to Reading, Pa., and other eastern points. They were gone a month.

Six generations were represented at the reunion. A hall was rented for the reunion and each person spoke for a tape recording as a permanent file for the relatives. It had been 12 years since the Uplanders were in the east.

Following the unusual reunion, Mr. and Mrs. Gundry visited other relatives, including their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Gundry and their four children in Menlo Park, N. J.

NEIGHBORS ARGUE OVER COLLEGE HEIGHTS ISSUE

College Heights' annexation to Upland is a proposal still undecided but many words about the issue were spoken frankly and pointedly at last week's Upland city council meeting.

Marked division of opinion exists among the approximately 100 voters along Ninth St. between Benson and Central Aves. Homer Barnhart, 1859 W. Ninth St. and M. L. Lyons, 1888 W. Ninth St. attacked validity of the annexation proceedings being followed and an implication was expressed that names had been forged on a petition. The public hearing was continued until Sept. 20.

Supervisor Dan Mikesell,, who had been invited to the meeting, said at least 64 College Heights residents had a moral obligation to annex to Upland.

"You would have been a part of the Monte Vista city today were it not for the fact you gave me this petition, asking to be exempt from the new city so you could become a part of Upland."

Mr. Mikesell then read the petition and the names of the signers. This document was filed with the supervisors in January at the public hearing held to determine boundaries of the new Monte Vista city. Mr. Mikesell had a map outlining the area in general from the Santa Fe to Ninth St. as a "county strip" surrounded by cities."

"This situation would never have developed had I not accepted your word that you would annex to Upland if I would exclude you from Monte Vista," the hard-working county supervisor said.

Janet Johnson, 1654 W. Ninth St. who is a public health nurse, challenged Mr. Lyons' statement about forged signatures on Mikesell petition. She declared such charges were serious and emphasized that she and Ralph W. Hunt circulated the documents and that neither would stoop to the level of fraud.

The harsh words were spoken with reserve and there was a notable emotional calm during the hearing in the city council chambers.

Late in the meeting, persons in favor of annexation took the floor and one by one declared "they had signed the petition to stay out of Monte Vista and they were willing to stay by their word and would gladly become a part of Upland." Speaking in this vein were Virgil Brown, Dr. Franklin T. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Evans, Mrs. N. R. Jamieson and T. L. Mosley.

Owners of property officially objecting to the annexation had at the outset of the meeting filed written protests. If this group represents 50 per cent of the property, the proceedings will be cancelled.

Persons who had filed the pro- sell to withdraw them.
and Mrs. Robert Adler, 609 Laur- tests were invited by Mr. Mike- sell to withdraw them.

City Attorney Henry M. Busch assured the councilmen the proceedings being followed were in order and contradicted Mr. Barnhart's charges that property owners had not been given due notice.

Advantages For College Heights In Joining Upland Pointed Out

"Of the many advantages for College Heights becoming a part of Upland, one of the most important is the protection we would get in zoning," Mrs. Geo. W. Evans, 1637 W. Ninth St. declared yesterday.

She was at the Upland city council meeting Thursday when the annexation of the W. Ninth St. area of College Heights to Upland was discussed. "I had planned at the meeting to discuss the advantages but I got diverted."

At present, the area is now zoned for light industry.

"That means," she said, "any person can erect almost any kind of a building he wants to for manufacturing. As a result, people never know what kind of a structure they will get next to them. City of Upland zoning is an advantage that itself justifies being a part of that municipality.

"This is 'no man's land', since only a small strip is in the county, the rest of the area being either in Upland or Monte Vista. Some people, when they need emergency help, never know who to call — the county or the city. I know the Upland policemen have been cooperative when they have received calls but the situation is very confusing.

"It is possible for residents in the county to use the city library and the city park but actually that is not fair and right. I would feel much better about using city facilities if we helped pay for them."

Jack Baily Program Produces Wheel Chair

Barrett Canyon Woman Gets Wheel Chair, Loses TV Honor

Mrs. John Loughry, Barrett's Canyon, Mt. Baldy, was nosed out as "Queen For a Day" on the Jack Bailey TV show last Thursday but was notified several hours after the program, by telephone, that she was the recipient of a special wheel chair that had prompted her appearance in TV competition.

Mrs. Loughry was second among five contestants by applausameter reading. In her application she asked for a special wheel chair to aid her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Pellem, 33, in her recovery from major injuries sustained in an automobile accident in July of last year.

Mrs. Pellem will be a paraplegic for life as a result of multiple injuries. A wheel chair of special design was recommended to give her more freedom and assist in development of muscle and action.

A Glendora TV fan of the Jack Bailey program, Gertrude Shambles, witnessed the telecast and called the studio after the program. She had a nearly new wheel chair of the design needed by Mrs. Pellem. She said she would be glad to give the wheel chair to Mrs. Loughry.

The studio relayed the message by telephone to Mrs. Loughry after her return to Ontario.

Mr. Pellem went to Glendora immediately to pick up the gift.

Mrs. Loughry feels no remorse about being nosed out as "Queen For a Day." "It wasn't honors I wanted," she said, "it was a wheel chair. And now that we have it I feel happier than if I had been 'Queen'."

The funeral service was held Monday, 2 p.m. in Stone Funeral Home with interment following in Bellevue cemetery.

New Standard plant foods help the West produce better meals at less cost

Broadcasting of Standard's new uniform chemically blended plant food by airplane can turn sparse hilly acres into rich pasture for livestock

RICHER SOIL means better crops, yet the West has never had enough soil-building fertilizer. To help meet farmers' needs, Standard opens a $16 million plant next month which will produce petroleum-derived plant food* in pellet form for Western soils and crops.

This uniform blend of essential plant growth elements is so effective that 400 pounds on an acre of grassland often enables it to feed 3 to 5 times more livestock. On other crops, too, it increases profits per acre. With this better use of Western land, your family will get tastier, more nourishing meals for every budget dollar.

Progress in the West means...

food production must increase 35% to feed the 26½ million people who'll live here by 1965

Chaffey Master Plan Details Are Outlined

Present policies of the Chaffey board of education were generally commended and approved by the UCLA survey team report this filed a 150-page document. This document was presented in a public meeting last week.

At no place in the document is there criticism of the local educators and the forecasts for future high school classrooms is in general accordance with that previously issued by Superintendent Dan Milliken.

A suggested bond issue of $3,332,800 is proposed by the UCLA educators — this figure being almost identical with the bond issues that were twice defeated by voters in Ontario.

ONE NEW POINT

There is one new point not recommended previously by the Chaffey board however, and included in the UCLA report. That suggestion, under a chapter on the junior college, is the employment of a "local architect," who is familiar with the community and its development. "It is the conviction of the survey committee that the district would profit from early retention of an advising architect," the UCLA document said. "His counsel and engineering services on the selection of a site is important."

This recommendation was included under the heading of "Summary of Current and Future Educational Needs, Chaffey junior college." It is unknown if the recommendation applies to the high school building program.

Dr. Wm. S. Briscoe, professor of education, UCLA, headed the survey team, which for several months has studied the economic situation, population growth and development trends here. At the suggestion of critics of the Chaffey board, the survey team was employed. The report cost $4,500.

POPULATION FORECAST

As to the population predictions for the Chaffey area, the report says: "All estimates which have been made of the future population growth, predict great and rapid increase." Taking the Chaffey area as a whole, the population by years follows:

1960, 145,000; 1965, 212,800; 1970, 304,500 and 1975, 436,200.

High school enrollments will double in eight years, it is predicted, this forecast based on the present elementary school enrollment and anticipated newcomer increase.

High school students to be served in Ontario by 1960 will total 3,422. By 1967, this number will increase to 6,915, says the summary.

UPLAND HIGH SCHOOL

Predicted enrollments for Upland high school follow:

1956-57	1,061
1957-58	1,305
1958-59	1,330
1959-60	1,355
1960-61	1,387
1961-62	1,509
1962-63	1,536
1963164	1,604
1964-65	1,768

"It is expected Upland high school will level off at about 1,800 to 2,000 students," according to the survey.

Under the heading of "Summary of Current and Future Educational Needs," the report says:

PRESENT SYSTEM OK

"The present educational program in the high schools is broad and well-organized. It would seem to meet the needs of both pre-vocational and pre-college students, providing for the approximately 60 per cent who are college-bound and for those entering community life after high school. Course offerings in agriculture, business, industrial art, mathematics and science attract significant numbers of students."

Listed also are suggested changes in the program, most of which have been outlined by the Chaffey administration.

It is recommended that when the junior college is moved to a new site, Chaffey high school be organized with its own board and administration and that the college establish its own board and administration. Use of all the facilities on the Euclid Ave. campus by an enlarged Chaffey high school is recommended.

FIVE SITES FAVORED

As previously reported in The Upland News, the survey team recommends purchase of five new 40-acre high school sites "as soon as money is available." Suggested sites are in Monte Vista, Alta Loma-Cucamonga, South Ontario, Etiwanda and Guasti.

"It is recommended that the master program be financed in the following steps:

STEP ONE

"Purchase sites in Monte Vista, Cucamonga-Alta Loma and southeast Ontario and Etiwanda.

"Probable cost. . . .	$430,000
"Complete Upland high school. . . .	1,222,800
"Build Monte Vista high school. . . .	1,680,000
Total	$3,332,800

This time-table of additional construction is forecast:

"1. Open Monte Vista high school, 1958-59 with 1,000. It is expected this number may grow to 1,500 by 1965 or sooner. There will be crowding for one year in Chaffey high school.

"2. Open the new college with at least one unit by 1959-60. This unit could be the general college.

"3. Open a fourth high school, probably in the Cucamonga area, by 1964-65. Where the high school should be placed and when it should be opened will depend upon real estate developments.

"4. By 1966 open a fifth high school, possibly in Etiwanda.

"5. By 1969, it seems certain that a sixth high school will have to be opened."

As to the junior college, it is recommended that a new site of 200 acres obtained in the Etiwanda district with facilities for at 6,000 students. First unit of the college should be build to serve 1,800 students, this taking care of enrollments for eight to nine years. This project cost is estimated at $4,283,100.

Mrs. Fred Beal, Mt. Baldy, in a recent letter subscribing to the Upland News, explained she wanted the paper in order to keep up with activities at Upland High school.

Crossing Guard For Sultana

Children from Upland going to Edison school in Ontario will be guarded in crossing the Sultana Ave. freeway bridge by a traffic officer as the result of an appeal from parents at the meeting of the Upland city council Thursday night.

Not included in the recently adopted city budget was provision for this traffic guard. This fact was noted by Mrs. Maurice A. Uhl, safety chairman for the Edison P-T A. and she was supported in the appeal at the meeting by nearly a score of parents. Among those present was Mrs. Eric Miller, president of the Edison P-T A.

The council voted to place the guard on a temporary basis, pending study of policies in other cities and possibilities of erecting a higher railing to protect the youngers.

It was reported that about 100 school children will use the bridge every day. The petition asking for the crossing guard was signed by 262 persons and was filed in a letter from Mrs. J. T. Abram.

A TRIBUTE . . .
TO OUR SCHOOL TEACHERS

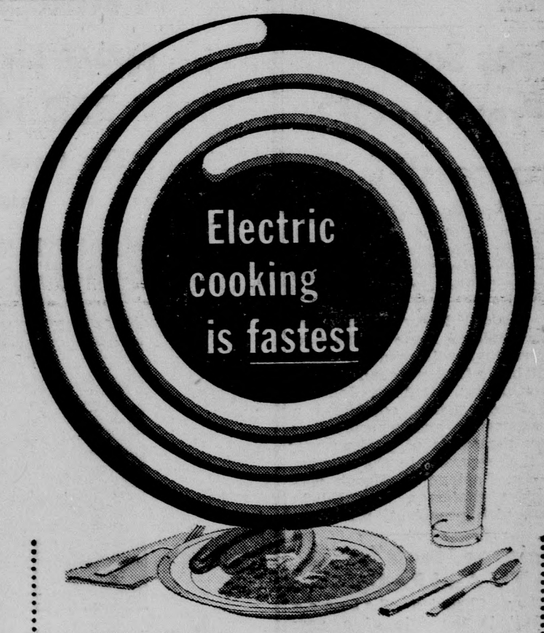

Today, as no time before in history, the school teacher is recognized as the builder of tomorrow's America! With juvenile delinquency increasing apace, and foreign ideologies creeping into our school books, it is high time that glowing tribute was paid to these patient men and women who instruct our young. Let's remember that teachers are human beings, not machines. Let's give them the support and confidence they so richly deserve. Let's attend P-T-A meetings and contribute something more than children. This community is fortunate in having such fine schools and outstanding educators. We applaud their work and their good American achievements!

Rotary Club To Be In Charge Of Annual Community Chest Drive

Plans for the Community chest campaign are being prepared by an Upland Rotary club committee. The anual drive for finances will be started next month, according to Wm. S. Rugg, who is chairman of the committee.

Rather than have one individual and a community-wide committee in charge, the plan is for each of the service clubs to assume responsibility for the funds from year to year.

Mr. Rugg will have the assistance on the committee of the following Rotarians: Dr. Robert Swenson, Chas. Walker, Allan S. Barr, Dr. Ralph W. Lee, Oris Heinauer and Thomas Glasheen.

Mrs. Hazel Cassell, city clerk, as secretary of the organization, will handle many of the details.

Chaffey Board Divided On Voting Issue

A three to one vote divided members of the Chaffey board of education on the question of who should be allowed to ballot in an election to form a new high school district.

In a meeting last week, the Chaffey board members decided that if the election is held prior to a bond issue proposal all voters within the Chaffey district should be privileged to vote on the question of secession, rather than only voters in the proposed foothill high school district.

A. H. Utman, Etiwanda, expressed the belief that the election should be for only persons in the "withdrawing" district. Nelson Gray, Richard Barr and Mrs. Martha Thompson voted to open up the voting to all in the district. Mr. Utman said that a majority of residents in the Etiwanda elementary district wanted him to vote as he had expressed himself.

Rodney Johnson and Fred Carlson conducted a demonstration and reported that many thousands of persons will see the program in the coming months. Harland P. Horak was program chairman with Edwin Dean, vice president, presiding.

John Hall, Helen Wolgemuth Surprise Friends At Party

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Helen Wolgemuth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Wolgemuth, Elizabethtown, Pa., and John Hall, 620 N. First Ave., was made Sunday at a family dinner party in the Hall home. Besides family members, present were Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Martin, aunt and uncle of Miss Wolgemuth.

Friends who arrived later in the evening were surprised with a novel announcement. With the living room set up to show pictures, the screen was removed when the lights were turned out, later revealing a wishing well cake decorated with the name of the affianced couple, joined with a heart and an arrow on which was printed, "Engaged!"

Presentation of the ring was made by John Hall who drew it up from a tiny bucket inside the cake.

Mr. Hall, who was graduated from Upland academy is now an Upland postman. His bride-to-be was graduated from Messiah academy, Grantham, Pa., and is a junior at Upland college, majoring in home economics.

Dr. Ralph W. Lee, minister of the Upland Methodist church, and Samuel Eberly, lay leader, attended a meeting at noon Saturday at which Bishop Gerald Kennedy opened a campaign to raise $500,000 for use in construction of new Methoidst churches in the southland.

MISS HELEN WOLGEMUTH

"This I Believe", Theme Of Rev. Burkholder Sunday

Rev. Alvin C. Burkholder, minister, will be speaking at the 10:45 a.m. and at the 7:30 p.m. services in the Brethren in Christ church.

For the morning message the sermon title will be "This I Believe". For the evening message the Parable of the Unjust Steward will be discussed.

Upland College Program Tonight

Wm. Georgiades, former Upland college dean, and now a member of the USC faculty, will be the speaker at the convocation chapel at Upland college, 7:30 p.m. today. Bringing together, new and old students, the chapel will be the first public event of the new year on the local W. Arrow Hwy. campus.

President John Martin will welcome the students and the general public. Also a feature of the convocation will be the appearance of the Motet choir.

Upland college students registered yesterday to start the new year with actual classes getting underway immediately.

Upland academy enrollment now includes the names of 78 students.

A faculty-student reception will be held on the campus Friday night.

Dr. Kreise, 99 Rites Wednesday

Dr. P. L. Kreise, 99, a retired medical practitioner who was the oldest member of the Brethren in Christ church, Upland, was buried Wednesday morning from Palm Mortuary, Escondido with the Rev. Alvin Burkholder officiating.

Dr. Kreise was a native of Pennsylvania and had formerly lived and practiced near Souderton, Pa. He was living in Escondido at the time of his death.

Rev. Stamm Returns Home

The Rev. J. C. Stamm, 636½ E. Arrow Hwy., has returned from Pennsylvania where he again instructed in nature at the Twin Echo Boy Scout camp.

He reports there was rain for 34 out of 36 days at the camp.

"It didn't interfere with the program," he said, "although there was a stream of water running through the center of the tent. The enrollment was below normal due to the steel strike. Boys at the camp, which usually takes care of 1200, come of the families of Pittsburgh steelworkers."

Bishop Brubaker Guest Speaker

Dr. Henry G. Brubaker, Bishop of the Pacific Coast region Brethren in Christ church, will be the guest pastor, Sunday, in the First Mennonite church.

Dr. Brubaker is the last of the guest speakers to be heard in the church during the absence of the Rev. Paul Goering, pastor, who has been attending the general conference of the church in Winnipeg Canada and vacationing in the east.
